

Security Chief Miles Murtagh –Male, Caucasian, LGBTQ+ 40's.

No-nonsense, though xenophobic and hetero-centric, head of security. Devoted to the United Space Associated Federated Galactic Alliance of Friendly Species, but extremely proud of his Earth nationality (think Scotty or Chekov from Star Trek: TOS). A by-the-book type, of course, and should be a counter to Fralgon in almost every way. Hero-worships Chalke and is probably, unknown to himself, in love with the Commander. Way, way in the closet. Irish/English/Scottish accent (in that order of preference)

AUDITION SIDES:

MURTAUGH: They keep their men hidden?. I think I really would be happier in a combat unit. It's so much easier blowing up other cultures than understanding them. But I'm not sure I'd be happier working under another commander. I just don't think another commander would be as commanding. I couldn't put myself out like that.
