

Shannon Ineza (22, Black, female, queer), eternally chill, is a proud nerd in every aspect of her life. She's the more mature counterweight to the rest of the cast, especially her online gamer friend Penelope. Shannon is very self-aware, and she often gives Penelope reasonable advice on how to navigate uncomfortable emotional situations. Shannon loves getting to know new people, whether it's online or at her job at NASA.

AUDITION SIDE: monologue to Penny after a disastrous kind-of-double-date

Penny, I have literally crossed state lines to hang out this weekend. I wanted to spend time with your people because they're important to you. Playing games online until 2 am is fun, but I also want to know who you are outside of that. Spend a day in the life of Penny, you know? I met your super intense best friend, confirmed that I am not great at bowling, and discovered that your school cafeteria serves very moist tortillas. And I had an awesome time doing all of that with you
